FIRST TIME REGISTRATION

When you select the desktop ICON of GMPBasic after installation of the software you will need to register your profile for the first time. There are two pages to complete; 1. Owner details (legal address); and 2. Owner Location (where the animals are kept).

Users will on an annual basis need to acquire their GMPBasic® activation key which expires annually. The user will be able to activate or acquire their new GMPBasic® ACTIVATION KEY for the registered user to open their GMPBasic license option.

In the Management menu of the login console, the user will be able to renew the activation key in one of two methods:

1. Automatically via the internet prompts
2. Manually via the fill in form function and contacting GMP via telephone for such a Key

Once the Activation Key has been activated or achieved manually the user will be able to log in with their USER name and PASSWORD.

You should now be able to start with GMPBasic. Read through the help file or contact support for SETUP etc. guidelines. If your GMPBasic system does not want to run, contact GMP to setup a support session. These sessions will require a support fee to be paid for remote assistance.

Update installations do not need STEPS 1-2 to be repeated.

Regular program improvements & updates are done to the program. Ensure that you are on our mailing list to be notified of updates.

Previous producer users will need to click on the desktop icon and click on the Management tab. Then select the 'Restore data from Backup file'

This will take some seconds to install into your GMPBasic version. Once the registered profile has been installed, the user will be need to update the Activation Key. In the Management menu of the login console, the user will be able to renew the activation key in one of two methods:

3. Automatically via the internet prompts
4. Manually via the fill in form function and contacting GMP via telephone for such a Key

Once the Activation Key has been activated or achieved manually the user will be able to log in with the USER name and PASSWORD supplied.
